

ben 10 der EsbodenMadonna will perform at The Super Bowl halftime show in February, the NFL confirmed today. The singer will perform "Material Girl" and "Vogue," according to NFL rules and regulations. Additionally, the duo of Juanes and Katy Perry are reportedly set to perform and will be the musical guest for the game. The half-time performance will be broadcast for free to stream on Yahoo! from 3 to 5 pm ET on Feb. 2. Not only that, other advertisers will also be included in the halftime show. According to the Associated Press, Pepsi is set to throw a red carpet into the football game for the halftime show. The company will release a commercial during the game as well. Furthermore, NBC will also release a commercial for its "Biggest Loser" episode. Previous music acts include Justin Bieber, Katy Perry, Bruce Springsteen, and Beyonce. 's one of the reasons that we've gotten some band together, because at times it has been so out of control." FZ was willing to collaborate with others, but you want to make sure it was mutually beneficial. "[All members] agree on the structure and how things are going to be. We aren't all the same. We have different personalities, even though we all agree on how the band operates. I just want to make sure that's how things get resolved." "It's not like I'm going to get in an argument with somebody or get into a fight with someone." Finding the right member was one of the most important parts of making the band work. "Initially, we had... it was a lot of the same people from Tower, but we were all, let's put it this way, a little bit drunk or stoned, or whatever..." "Finding that initial stability was crucial for us, because we were all a little bit wild at first." So FZ helped out a little bit, but as soon as things stabilized, they began in the full-time capacity? "They were all doing it together, but I was the one calling everybody on a daily basis, to check how things were going. I'd say 'Hey man, you need to get your ass in my van to go practice; I got an idea for you,' and we'd do it. "I'll go over there, and the next thing you know, they're up there
