The purpose of the study was to assess the impact of a nursing intervention on noncompliance with compression garment use during cesarean delivery. The proportion of patients with noncompliance with perioperative compression was assessed in a preintervention and postintervention observational study design. In the preintervention cohort of 36 women, compliance with compression garment use was 18.5%, and in the postintervention cohort of 67 women, compliance improved to 44.6%. Compliance with the use of elastic compression garments during cesarean delivery can be improved by perioperative education and the use of a reminder system.Q: Cannot serialize an object to JSON I am using a JsonSerializer in my web application to convert my entity properties to JSON, but i get this error Type 'System.Web.Http.OData.Query.FilterContext' in Assembly 'System.Web.Http.WebHost, Version=4.0.0.0, Culture=neutral, PublicKeyToken=31bf3856ad364e35' is not marked as serializable. so i changed the constructor of my entity as below public MyEntity() { this.MyQueryable = new Queryable(); } But i still get the error, i don't want to add a serializer. My entity is not aware of OData, this is the constructor of the entity public MyEntity(): base() { } Code of Queryable inside the entity class public class Queryable { public IQueryable MyQueryable { get; set; } } A: You can try to add attributes to your entity and customize serialization: [System.ComponentModel.DataObjectMethodAttribute(System.ComponentModel.DataObjectMethodType.Json, true)] public string Foo(string bar) {
