Lately, more and more number of puzzle are created by using 3d laser cutting and laser engraving technology. There is a 3d jigsaw puzzle, a 3d wood puzzle and a 3d metal puzzle. However, they all must be played by the same rule, the move is always from left to right. All three type of 3d laser cutting puzzles have been produced by breaking down single files, solid blocks or multi-flips into smaller pieces. 18, 2014 THE PROSE ESSAYER: BEAT KAKABAKA “ HE CAN BE REALLY COMICAL Doyouknowwhatmakesjokefun? Of course you do. It is something you take for granted. But what does it really mean to make a joke? What exactly is, or can be, funny? One of the central tenets of Western humor is the assertion that there’s a universalist nature to what we find funny. Sure, some people develop a greater sense of humor over time, and some are born for it. But we all understand that comedy is predicated on finding a gap in our community, either socially or emotionally, and then showing us how our behavior has already fallen into that gap. And since we understand that it is commonplace to find ourselves in familiar or predictable social mires, whatever we find hilarious will also likely resonate with others, again because it may disturb a bubble that we all know exists somewhere among us. So for example, when I engage in the literal gripe play of jazz hands, you understand why I find the overall slap play to be hilarious. You will probably find this element of physical comedy to be a concept nearly universally shared. Your sense that something else is required, however, is an element that’s likely to differ in its particulars from one person to another. There is also another version of humor, one developed within the humor practice of circuses and sideshows. It became a central and defining part of American culture, in part because it was familiar to folk who remained unmoored to the modern notion of the shared community. It is the idea of getting something to perform a necessary function - for example, elephants pulling railroad cars - so that we can laugh at how they perform. By contrast, we can find the slap play of jazz hands to be laughably funny and at the same time still find our failure to perform the physical act itself completely horrifying. Another way to understand this is through the example of the cut-up cartoon, something I’ve written about before. The cut-up cartoon takes any piece of text, which it then shuffles in such a way that whatever fragment was originally placed in the middle of the piece loses its context. This process makes it appear ridiculous simply by the reading of the cut-up text. It turns every part of the story into a stand-in for some other part of the story, necessarily making every
