PYTHON SCRIPTS FOR ABAQUS LEARN BY EXAMPLE Gautam Puri USERS forum abaqus tutorial simulia. FREEA . UPDATE: I created the tag: for working with Windows XP as well. (BTW Windows 7 is not affected.) I disabled all the modules that I think might be in conflict by using dlls (e.g. Office or Windows XP). The problem seems to disappear now and I'm getting the same error as before. I checked with XP SP1 and SP2 and the result is the same. So my only assumption is that the error is in the Windows XP "just-in-time" compilation utility (compiler.exe). A: SumTotal is no longer a valid tag so it is now removed from the question as I had misunderstood the issue. I'm not really sure what the underlying issue is but I have managed to get round the issue and am able to continue with my work. The following link is from the official Abaqus website: I have this series of scripts but I have not yet found a single place where they are documented properly. The only official script documentation I was able to find is this
