Cloning, sequencing, and expression of the subtilase-type serine proteinase gene from Aspergillus nidulans. A cDNA library prepared from Aspergillus nidulans was screened with oligonucleotide probes based on the amino acid sequences of the A. nidulans subtilisin-like serine proteinases. A sequence encoding a subtilase-type proteinase was cloned and completely sequenced. The deduced amino acid sequence of the primary translation product is very similar to those of some known subtilases. The A. nidulans subtilase is encoded by an mRNA of 4.4 kb. As judged by Northern blots, the subtilase transcript is present in minimal medium and several other Aspergillus species. When A. nidulans was cultivated in a medium with the peroxisomal activator sodium dodecyl sulfate, the amount of the subtilase-mRNA was increased 4-fold."I think that this is an exciting time to be a competitive gamer and fan of competitive gaming," Noke said, according to the Associated Press. And they're succeeding, according to the AP. "There will be money in our coffers, and it will also bring people into Massachusetts, so we like it," Noke said. That may be true, but some legislators argue that it's not the best use of lottery funding. "We have other priorities, like helping those less fortunate," said Rep. Jeannette Núñez, D-Boston. "
