Suppose the values of the fields are arrays (for example: ["a","b","c"]). Then I want to replace each value with the field from an array. Finally I want to save it into another text file. I want to write the result into another text file. How can I do it? I've tried this: import re file=open("file1.txt",'r') file.read() file.close() with open("file.txt",'w') as fout: for line in file: fout.write(line.replace(re.compile("\S*?"), ["\1"]).strip()) It doesn't work. And it doesn't return the file without the replaced values and it saves the fields instead of the values. This is the output I want: Hi this is my line [a] [b] [c] A: import re file=open("file1.txt","r") file.read() file.close() with open("file.txt","w") as fout: for line in file: fout.write(line.replace(re.compile("\S*?"), ["\1"]).strip())
