It's not a win/mac thing - you can have both - is the "download" link to your post, etc., or to the entire page? I was wondering if there was a way to make the thread posting system more like gw2. In general I don't like having to search through pages of posts to find what I'm looking for. That is why I had to search through 40 pages of posts to find this post and say thanks! It's really a helpful post, thanks. EDIT: Also, is it impossible to install GW2 in Win8? I keep getting "An error occurred trying to install the game." If anyone still wants the original post, I found it here: Quote: Can someone please write a guide for GW2 installing in Win8, since he just PM'd me and wanted a full guide for how to do it. I have a 32-bit vista install with most games working fine. But when I try to install GW2 from the CD, I get: "An error occurred trying to install the game. Please refer to the Troubleshooting and FAQ section in the installation instruction manual." This has happened before with other games and worked fine, but I have not been able to find the solution yet.
